BY TELEGRAPH.

From the West.

Telegraphed expressly for the Bulletin.]

RICHMOND, July 17.

Northern papers of the 15th inst. contain dispatches from Nashville which report that a fight had taken place at Murfreesboro,' and that the Confederates were victorious. Two Yankee regiments had surrendered, and Gen. Crittenden, of Indiana, was captured. Col. Duffield (Federal) was mortally wounded.

There is great excitement in Nashville. The Confederates, six thousand strong, are reported to be marching on Nashville.

In New York gold was quoted at 116½, and sterling exchange at 129. The news from Tennessee has had a depressing effect on the stock market.

SECOND DISPATCH.

RICHMOND, July 17.

The Petersburg Express has a special dispatch from Knoxville announcing the capture of Murfreesboro,' Tenn., by Col. Forest's cavalry on Sunday last.

The New York Herald of the 14th has been received. It says that Murfreesboro' was captured by three thousand rebel cavalry under Forrest, on the 13th instant. The ninth Michigan regiment, Col. Parkhurst, and Brigadier General Crittenden, and Col. Dufheld, of Indiana, were taken prisoners. Many other officers were taken prisoners.

There is great consternation in Nashville. The Federals say that they well shell the city if they are compelled to evacuate it.

Morgan was only nine miles from Frankfort, Ky., on Sunday morning. There is great alarm among the Yankees in Kentucky.

Later From the West

Telegraphed expressly for the Bulletin.]

MOBILE, July 19.

A special dispatch to the Mobile Tribune, dated Grenada 18th inst says:

"Information has been received from Jeff Thompson, this morning, that Curtis crossed the Mississippi River yesterday with 4,000 men, to a point opposite Helena, and it supposed that the rest of his command had followed by this time.

Reported Brilliant Little Affair in Mississippi.

AUGUSTA, July 17.

The Jackson Mississippian of the 12th learns from a private letter that a brilliant little affair came off at Tupeloon the 4th inst. 7000 Yankees attacked the Confederates and fought with great fury for a while, but were finally routed and took to their heels, with a loss of 200 killed, and 500 wounded and taken prisoners. Our loss was 20 killed and 30 wounded

Later from Tennessee.

Advance of the Rebels upon Nashville—The Fight at Murfreesboro'—Heavy Yankee Loss—Surrender of two Regiments—Great Excitement in Kentucky.

The New York Tribune of Tuesday, July 15th, one day later than our Northern dates given yesterday, contains the following additional from Tennessee:—Petersburg Express.

NASHVILLE, July 14.

The Unionists lost $30,000 worth of army stores at Murfreesboro'.

The Union forces engaged were the 3d Minnesota, Colonel Leslie, 800 men; six companies of the 9th Michigan, Colonel Parkhurst, 300; the 3d battalion of the 7th Pennsylvania cavalry, 225; Hewitt's battery, 60 men, convalescents; the 4th Kentucky, 25. In all about 1,400 men.

The Rebel force consisted of one regiment of mounted infantry, a regiment of Texan Rangers, and Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee cavalry—between three and four thousand, mostly armed with carbines and shot guns.

Their loss in killed and wounded is heavier than ours. The Pennsylvania 7th lost, in killed, wounded and missing, 200 men. The only officers escaped, as far as reported, are Captain J. F. Andrus, of company G, Capt. C. C. McCormick, and Lieut. H. D. Mooney.

The commissary and quartermaster's departments were recently replenished with new clothing, &c., all of which have fallen into the hands of the enemy.

The Rebel Governor, Isham G. Harris, and Andrew Ewing, active Secessionists here, were known to be at Beersheba Springs, near Sparta, a few days since, organizing the raid on Murfreesboro', which may, it is apprehended, be extended to the capitol of the State.

The public are still in a great state of excitement, many families having left. The Louisville cars were crowded this morning with alarmed cotton speculators and ad-[illegible]

It is also reported that the Rebels have taken Loroque, fifteen miles from Nashville, and that Kirby Smith is advancing on Nashville, from Chattanooga, with fifteen thousand men.

Murfreesboro' was barricaded by bales of hay, and the Unionists set fire to many houses.

Col. Lester is falling back toward Nashville.

Union reinforcements are coming in by special trains. The 23th Kentucky has just arrived. They were cheered as they passed through the streets.

The city is in a great state of excitement. The Secessionists confidently expect the arrival of the Rebel forces some time to-night. Batteries have been placed on Capitol Hill and other points.

Col. Leslie surrendered at Murfreesboro' at 4 o'clock p. m., the Minnesota 3d and Hewitt's battery included, the latter for want of ammunition.

[illegible] 9th Michigan, instead of the 11th Michigan, which surrendered at Murfreesboro'.

NASHVILLE, July 14.

Three members of Hewitt's battery, who escaped from Murfreesboro', report that their battery, and the 3d Minnesota surrendered. Colonel Duffield was mortally wounded. Gen. T. A. Crittenden of Indiana is a prisoner.

An escaped prisoner reports a force, 6,000 in all, advancing on Nashville. The 4th Pennsylvania cavalry and the 7th Ohio arrived from Lebanon last night. Four regiments are coming from Hunteville.

CINCINNATI, July 14.

The Gazette special, dated Lexington, says that Gen. Ward assumed command last night. The city is under martial law. No man is to appear without a musket, under penalty of being shot down. General Ward's proclamation orders all the citizens of Fayette county to prepare forthwith for military duty.

The Commercial special, dated Frankfort, says that Morgan, with less than 10,000 men, crossed the Kentucky river this morning, and moved north to Versailles, where now is a force sufficient for the protection of Frankfort and Lexington.

CINCINNATI, July 14.

Since Saturday night the city has been greatly excited. A thousand rumors are afloat, meetings have been held, and citizens in large numbers have volunteered special service at Lexington. Over 100 of the city police went fully armed; many citizens are yet anxious to go, but their services will not be accepted until further news from Morgan is had.

Bombardment of Vicksburg.

Telegraphed Expressly for the Bulletin.]

JACKSON, Miss., July 17.

The enemy continues to shell Vickburg, apparently with the view of ascertaining the position of our troops. The lower fleet has moved up about a mile. The ram Arkansas has proved to be a troublesome customer for the enemy's gun-boats, and the Yankees declare that they will capture her if they lose half their fleet in doing so. On Tuesday night, nine gunboats are said to have succeeded in passing down, but not until they had been very badly damaged. It is supposed that the enemy will make a desperate effort to capture the Arkansas. The loss on board the gunboats during their recent encounter with the ram is believed to be at least 500.

Capt. John Kerr has been assigned to command the troops stationed in Jackson.

MOBILE, July 19.

A special despatch to the Advertiser and Register, dated Jackson, 19th, says that the enemy are continuously shelling Vicksburg. We will soon have another heavy fight or skedaddle.

The Tribune has private despatches, with dates from Vicksburg of the 18th, which say that the Arkansas is being repaired, and will soon be ready for action.

We trust brick and mortar will not control the citizens of Mobile, but that they will let the city be burned to ashes, rather than let it be occupied by Federal troops. We have passed through the fiery ordeal here, but our troops are firm and in good spirits. May God protect and defend our valiant men everywhere.

From the North.

Telegraphed Expressly for the Bulletin.]

RICHMOND, July 19.

Northern dates of the 16th have been received here, from which we select the following:

A war meeting was held in New York on the 15th, and is said to have been largely attended. There were five stands for speakers, all of whom were vehemently in favor of upholding the government in all its war measures, until the last armed rebel shall surrender. At 6 o'clock, when the gathering seemed most dense, a violent shower came up, when the meeting was summarily dismissed.

Letters from Butler are published in explanation of his order regarding the ladies of New Orleans. He says that a gentleman will take no notice of a woman of the town, so she cannot insult him, and it is only when she becomes a continuous and positive nuisance, that you call a watchman and give her in charge to him.

THE PRODUCE LOAN.—We learn that the Government has determined to require subscribers of cotton and money to the loan to comply immediately with the terms of their subscription. Heretofore the payments of this loan have been at the option of the subscriber—the suspension of the collection being allowed by the depart-[illegible] produce and a desire to [illegible] the interest of both the subscriber and Government. No further indulgence will be granted and subscribers will be required to perform the obligations which they have assumed.

Yankee Trick

The Richmond Dispatch says:

A soldier from Georgia picked up on battle field a Yankee "Richmond Dispatch," which had been dropped by some dead Yankee. We have not yet seen it, but persons who have, say it is a curiosity. It is exactly like this paper. The size, paper, advertisements and all are precisely the same. The only difference is in the editorials. The Yankee concern is full of desponding and despairing editorials, which pronounce our cause desperate, and say McClellan is obliged to take the city. These counterfeits are no doubt sent North, and [illegible] Southern papers may be counterfeited too. Was there ever a nation so thoroughly base.

The Cincinnati Enquirer declares the dispatch which purported to come from Gen. Halleck, announcing that the White river was open to navigation for one hundred and seventy miles, and Governor Rector a fugitive, to be a forgery.

THE END OF THE WORLD.—To-day, tomorrow, every day, to thousands, the end of the world is close at hand. And why should we fear it? We walk here as it were in the crypts of life; at times from the great cathedral above us we can hear the organ and the chanting choir; we see the light stream through the open door, when some friend goes up before us; and shall we fear to mount the narrow staircase of the grave, that lends us out of this uncertain twilight into the serene mansions of life eternal?

MINISTERS ARRESTED IN MEMPHIS.—The Memphis dispatches to the North say: The preaching of the gospel of treason has been stopped by Gen. Wallace. The rector of the Episcopal Church, who offered prayers for the Southern Confederacy last Sunday, has been effectually admonished.

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET, July 5.—The market is quiet and firm, with sales of 250 bales at 38½@39 cents for middling uplands.

THE friends and relatives of Mrs. N. F. JOHNSTON and family are invited to attend the funeral of Miss KATE J. JOHNSTON this afternoon, at 5 o'clock, in the Presbyterian church.

The Literary Paper of the South
"EVERY FAMILY SHOULD READ IT"

THE TIMES.

THE LARGEST! THE CHEAPEST! THE BEST! ILLUSTRATED SOUTHERN FAMILY PAPER!

THE TIMES is neither political nor sectarian, but is the constant aim of the Editors to fill its columns with the choicest Historical, Literary and Family reading, and with a large selection of all the new of the day, both foreign and domestic.

The fifth volume commences with the new year 1860. Engagements have been made to make this the most brilliant year in the history of THE TIMES. It will commence with Three Beautiful Prize Stories.

Its illustrations will be increased; and its typographical appearance will be improved by a still neater dress. The Publishers are determined to keep pace with the improvements of the age: their motto is "PROGRESSION," and as the circulation of THE TIMES enlarges each year, they are determined to add new attractions to its columns and make it the literary paper of the South. With these inducements the Publishers confidently expect several thousand increase in circulation.

But as additional incentives to the friends of the South to encourage their own literary and family paper, in which they will find none of that impure and immoral reading which sometimes they get from abroad, the Publishers of THE TIMES offer

$2,500 IN PREMIUMS

For subscribers to commence with the new volume and the new year. THE TIMES is printed weekly on eight large pages, fine paper, at $2 a year, in advance. For specimen numbers and circulars address the Publishers.

A NORTH CAROLINA PAPER
THE TIMES:
A large Eight-Page Weekly, published in Greensboro.
$2.00 a year; $1.00 for six months.

THE TIMES contains weekly forty columns of choice matter, specially adapted to the family circle. It is neither sectarian nor political, but by being courteous to all sects and parties, it is the constant aim of the publishers to present in its columns whatever may elevate the people and enrich the State. The publishers would earnestly appeal to the families of North Carolina to give THE TIMES a trial; try it for six months, to see if it be not as well to patronise home papers, as those from abroad; to build up home interests and a State pride, and to scatter our substance and our energies among strangers. Give THE TIMES a trial and then let it stand upon its merits.

WHAT IS SAID OF THE TIMES.

"I know of no Weekly published anywhere, that is so deserving of public patronage as the Times."—Rev. I. B. Edwards.

THE CHARLESTON MERCURY
A POLITICAL, COMMERCIAL AND LITERARY NEWSPAPER,
PUBLISHED DAILY AND TRI-WEEKLY

THE MERCURY gives daily reports of the Market and Marine Intelligence in Charleston, and of Charleston commerce in the leading seaports of the world. The Weekly Prices Current is made up with much care, and from the most reliable sources. Its connection with the "Associated Press" insures the latest intelligence by Telegraph and the earliest news by Steamers from Europe. It has an able and accomplished Correspondent in London (a gentleman connected with the editorial staff of the London Times,) and regular Correspondents in New York, Washington, Key West and Havana. The monthly New York Fashion Letters and weekly letters on Life in Washington are additional attractions in favor of its lady readers. Its literary notices, from the pen of a gentleman who occupies perhaps the highest position among the literary men of the South, are discriminating and comprehensive.—Attention is paid to all matters of general concern, especially those in reference to the Planting and Agricultural interest, and to the current news of the day. Great care is taken that nothing shall appear in its columns which should be excluded from the family circle.

The political creed of the MERCURY consists in the principles of the Democratic Party, as laid down in the Virginia and Kentucky Resolutions of 1798 and 1799—the Sovereignty of the States; a strict construction of the Federal Constitution by the General Government, the agent of the States; Free Trade, and an economical Administration of the Government. Its policy is the Union of the Southern States in maintaining their rights.

A Reply to Inquiries.

During the past month we have received several letters on business in which the inquiry is made, "Why have you not come out in favor of one or the other of the gentlemen named for Governor?" "Why is it you have not hoisted at your mast head the Candidate you support for Governor," &c.

In reply to these inquiries we remark—we wear the collar of no man, because we are not a dog. When any other than our own name appear at the head of the BULLETIN we then cease to be its Editor.

We publish a strictly independent journal, pledged to the support of no person, and it never shall be so long as we preside over its columns.

As an individual we have our preferences and will vote for the gentleman we admire most without regard to the opinions of others, yet we are opposed to obtruding the name of our choice or advertising the public daily that our paper is pledged to his support.

Pardon us for the following closing remark, which we would regard extremely appropriate were we to do as some expect us.

In Columbia, S. C., there resides an amiable and distinguished gentleman and Banker, known as John A. Crawford, (pardon the reference,) who at one time owned a handsome dog, which, when seen, prompted the inquiry—"Whose dog is that?"

In order to answer the frequent and annoying inquiry, Mr. Crawford procured and placed upon his dog a collar—a very handsome silver collar—with the inscription, "I am John A. Crawfords dog! Whose dog are you."

As we have not yet been bought up, and am confident that there is not a man in North Carolina possessing money enough to make us think upon that subject one moment, we will not wear a collar for any man, because we are not one of the canine species.

"A War of Extermination."

Under the above heading we publish in another column an able and timely article which appeared in the Charleston Mercury of a recent date, to which is appended the comments of the Savannah News.

The reasoning of Senex is conclusive and just. The Federal Government and its hireling soldiery have proclaimed their determination to violate every law, human and Divine in their efforts to subjugate the South, and now they are putting arms in the hands of our servile population, who, of course, will not respect female virtue nor spare the lives of women or children. Surely the State will authorize the punishment of such as are instigating insurrection and rapine with their relative monstrosities. If summary punishment is not ordered by our Chief Magistrates, we hope our soldiers will not spare the life of one of those who invade our soil, when captured. It is due to our women and children that the lives of such fiends be instantly taken. Let the war of extermination begin. The Yankee nation is responsible for the consequences. Let the black flag be hoisted and give no quarters.

The Bloody Work in the late Battles.

We have been favored with the following interesting extract from a letter written by a Federal Surgeon to his sister:

"FORTRESS MONROE, July 4.

"I now realize war in all its horrors. I have witnessed such scenes as would make the blood curdle to read about them, but to look upon is horrible. I have seen, within two days past, more than 12,000 men torn in all parts of the body with balls and bayonet wounds. I went on board of the Vanderbilt this morning, and saw lying, all over the boat, 850 wounded and dying men. I sickened at the sight, but was compelled, for the sake of humanity, to do all I could to aid them. I there saw Col. Bratton, of South Carolina, a rebel Colonel who fell upon the field, not dead but badly wounded; he, and five of his command are prisoners, all badly wounded; some of the wounded men hit in four or five places.

These men are less than one-fourth that fell upon the field of battle on last Saturday, near Richmond. The rebels attacked the Union troops and completely routed them, taking all their stores, artilley, ammunition, &c., &c. On Sunday there was some fighting, which the papers report as being terrible, and that they gained all they lost on Saturday, but this is not so. I have my information from best sources. The rebels fought terribly hard, and I very much fear McClellan's army will be completely routed if he does not receive reinforcements. Yesterday, Sumner's division was attacked again by the rebels, but we have not received any news of the result, as the wires are down from headquarters. We have lost a great many officers, numbers of Colonels, Lieut, Colonels, Majors, &c., &c. I was informed one boat alone was filled with officers.

"S——— of company C, was wounded, as was his captain, and his company was terribly cut up, but few men remaining. I saw two men on the boat wounded in his company. The Pennsylvania regiments suffered terribly; only 150 men are left in the 101the Pennsylvania regiment. The number of killed, wounded and missing to the two [illegible], approaches 16,000, certain.

"Don't believe [illegible] you see in the papers. I know [illegible]fully. Official dispatches are [illegible].

"We hear that [illegible] has reinforced McClellan, and that [illegible] is to send as many as he can [illegible]

DEAR SPEARY[illegible]: [illegible] an elegant little fight this mo[illegible] [illegible] breakfast, and cleaned out a [illegible] encampment as completely as it [illegible] by any one. They had breakf[illegible] but had not time to eat it.

Owing to the locality, Colonel Morgan was compelled to burn [illegible] portion of his spoils, consisting of [illegible] wagons but one, all the tents, and 2[illegible] new Yankee uniforms—the force havi[illegible] just been newly equipped, but not yet [illegible] had time to don their new apparel.

The Yankee force has [illegible] been marauding in Fentress and [illegible]rton counties, committing depredations [illegible] outrages.

We regret to learn that Colonel Hunt, of the Georgia cavalry, [illegible] accidentally wounded very seriously [illegible] leg by one of his own men.

GEN. HARDEE AND THE ARKANSAS RAW RECRUIT.—An anecdote is [illegible] of General Hardee, which shows, in a very amusing light, the kind of material out of which an army of volunteer soldiers is formed.—About the beginning of the war, the General was forming the nucleus of an army in South-east Missouri, and being a great disciplinarian, was very [illegible] in teaching his men the rules and duties of a soldier's life. It happened one night that a sentinel had been placed to guard [illegible] stores near the entrance of the General's headquarters. Returning home rather late from a tour of inspection, he passed the sentinel a few paces from his door, [illegible] honored with the usual salute of "present arms," he halted—and in a kind but commanding tone, said: "Don't you know who I am?" "No, sir," replied the [illegible] Arkansian; "who are you?" "I am General Hardee, sir!" Whereupon the raw recruit advanced a few paces, put out his hand for a shake, and said in a most familiar tone: "My name, General, is Bill [illegible]kerson, and I'm right glad to make your acquaintance."

The General was [illegible] amused at the soldier's innocent [illegible] ly with him, but quietly pointing out what his duty was, he retired to his [illegible]—to muse, probably, on the trials [illegible] of manufacturing soldiers at [illegible].

A WAR OF EXTERMINATION.

[From the Savannah News.]

The Charleston Mercury, in calling the attention of the public to the following communication says: "It comes from the pen of one of the most venerable men of this community—one whose age has long since tempered the fiery zeal of youth—whose manhood has been marked by conservative moderation of views, and whose sands are running out.

It is this respected citizen, a great sufferer from the afflictions of this war—who tells that the time has come when no quarter should be given the enemy, whose premediated atrocities condemn them by our own laws to the fate of the worst of criminals. Entering upon this conflict with a delicate and sentimental reluctance on the part of many to use that retaliation which was necessary for the protection of our people and the respectability of our cause, we have not yet taught the North to fear the punishment of their criminal conduct of the war, and are drifting rapidly into necessary severity.

"The course pursued by Butler and Hunter—the policy advocated by the blood thirsty red republican majority of the North, and likely to be pursued as far as practicable—can be met in no other way than by "shutting the gates of mercy" on our savage foes. To permit the waging of such a war as is now on foot, would be the base abandonment of our defenceless to the brutality of an enraged and barberous enemy. It is enough.

"To stir a fever in the blood of age,
Or make the infant sinews strong as steel!"

"We, therefore, call upon the authorities to put this matter at once upon its righ footing, and to meet the enemy fully and fearlessly in the prompt announcement of a policy of conducting this war which shall be either a preventive or retaliatory. One polict must be met by another and at once."

"REPORT OF GENERAL HUNTER—RECENT DEBATES IN YANKEE CONGRESS, ETC—CONTRABAND PROPERTY FOR MILITARY PURPOSES, ETC.

To the Editor of the Mercury: There are new evidences of the "weakness which tyranny imposes on itself," but it is our part to say, "the question is respectfully submitted to our governments, both at Columbia and at Richmond, how far such atrocities are to be contemplated, and how far such measures are to be prosecuted, without due notice being given to the civilized world of their inevitable results."

Is there not a law in South Carolina for suppressing rebellion? Are not the provisions ample for putting down domestic insurrection? And does not the same penalty attach to all men who are found aiding and abetting in such cases, as to the insurgents themselves who are engaged? If General Hunter, or Mr. Sherman, of Ohio; Mr. Collamer, of Vermont; Mr. Fessenden, of Maine, or Mr. Rice, of Minnesota, cumaljis, were found stealing household furniture or specie within the limits of the State, would either of these "parties" be considered less a thief because they were committing the additional crime of waging a practical war against the peace and dignity of the entire South? And can they be held as less amenable to the law referred to, because, after enticing those about us to join in violating the "rights of property," they go further and teach them how to murder our women and our children? Those who are not "accounted wise" desire to be informed in those matters.

Is it to be supposed, for a single instant, that if these offenders, of any tint, shall chance to fall into our hands, they are to be dealt with as prisoners of war, entitled to exchange, or fit objects for any of those privileges which appertain to the soldier? Would not execution immediately follow capture? and if any other course were pursued, would not allegiance to all authority be forthwith at an end?

Will those of us whose heart's blood has been shed—those who "die daily" in remembrance of their own sorrows—consent to have this question mooted, and still consent to live? Would "woman"—now acting as the vicegerent of God—ministering comfort to the wounded—performing "labors of love"—feel other than that she, a mother, a wife, a sister, or a daughter, is deserted and abandoned by her natural protector? But enough! This is no occasion for argument! On this branch of the conflict, when the Stars and the Stripes come against us, let the "black flag" be given to the breeze! Let there be no hesitation and no mistake; or let us at once yield everything and ask mercy on our knees.

First, however, let the Governor and his Council see that the State suffers no detriment; that her laws are duly respected. And next, let those who hold the destinies of this Confederacy, in trust for the South, do the same. Lastly, when the 1st South Carolina Volunteers of Gen. Hunter take the field, let this position be cardinal—any Southron who gives quarter is a traitor. He who asks it, is unworthy of his status.

SENEX.

THE DECIMATION OF MCCLELLAN'S ARMY.—As an instance of how terribly cut up some of McClellan's regiments have been by the recent battles, the Courrier des Etats Unis states that of the regiment of Gardes Lafayette which left New York for the Peninsula, under the command of Colonel de Trobriand, formerly one of the editors of the Courrier, scarcely more than fifty men are now fit for service. We copy from it:

"The Fifty-fifth New York State Militia, more generally known as the Gardes Lafayette, and composed chiefly of French citizens, has been so decimated by sickness and by the battles of Williamsburg, Fair Oaks and Richmond that, as a regiment, it can scarcely be said to practically exist. Scarcely over fifty of its men are now fit for active service. Colonel de Trobriand, who left New York on the 25th ult., arrived at his camp, after much difficulty, only to find it deserted by the evacuation of the White House. He is now in Washington, hoping to obtain either a new command or authority to raise a new regiment."

Seizures of concealed government arms were made in some of the palatial residences of rebel sympathizers in Baltimore last week. In one house were found fifty-seven Harper's Ferry muskets, loaded, with accoutrements complete. The arms were taken, and the sympathizers will be brought before General Wool for investigation.

The Wilmington Journal learns from more than one highly intelligent officer who participated in the battles at Richmond, that all or nearly all the Yankee prisoners they saw were, when taken, more or less under the influence of liquor, while there was plenty in all their canteens.—Some of our own [illegible] soldiers who had been fighting on teetotal principles, did take live swigs out of the canteens of the dead Lincolnites.

Act. Assist. Surgeon, C S. A.,
in charge of Hospital at Charlotte, N. C.

P. S.—Ladies in the town and surrounding country are requested to send bandages, lint and old linen, as large quantities are necessary.

July 14, 1862—1w

To Voters of Mecklenburg:

Some weeks ago my friends announced me as a Candidate for the Legislature, but not feeling that it was convenient for me to enter the contest, I last week, published a card declining. On reflection, and at the solicitation of numerous friends, I have concluded to become a Candidate, and therefore announce myself as a Candidate for a seat in the House of Commons of the next General Assembly of North Carolina. In order that my position may be understood, I will state that I am for Col. Wm. Johnston for Governor, and in favor of prosecuting the war until our independence is established. If my fellow-citizens of Mecklenburg see proper to elect me I will serve them to the best of my ability.

R. L. DEARMON.
